UNDERPAID TEACHERS LINKED TO RED GAINS

CHICAGO, April 12 (AP)—Hungry students and underpaid, socially insecure teachers are an invitation to Communist gains throughout the world, an official of the Central Intelligence Agency said Wednesday.

"The world's educational institutions will be one of the decisive battlefields in the fight for existence between communism and the free world," said Lyman B. Kirkpatrick Jr., inspector general of the agency. He addressed the closing day of the seventh annual Military Industrial and Educational Conference.

"Throughout the world there is ample evidence that the communists are determined to win the youth as the first step in winning the world," he said.

"The challenge that this communist offensive poses for the free world is impressive," he said, "it is a challenge which must be met or we will truly be buried."

The shabby status of teachers and youth in many parts of the world is often an invitation to communism, he said.

"One of the principal communist appeals to teachers is that in many areas of the world they are underpaid and socially insecure," he said.
